LA GRANGE: NEW

Four Rules

of Good Conduct

There are two ways of increasing your income. One is by earning more, the other by getting more out of the money you spend.

Happy spending, like happy living, is an art. You may have happened on the right rules of spending, as you may have developed a philosophy of life. But then you have some method, for there is method in all art.

In experience, however, four rules have been found helpful:

1. Establish a standard of living that will allow you to live so well within your means that the surplus, accumulating, will buy a few big things, such as a home or an education for the children, as well as an income from investments that will keep you in your old age. This means a budget. As your income increases, raise your standard of living, always remembering that you will want to maintain that standard the rest of your days.

2. Spend ungrudgingly the amount you are

3. Save ungrudgingly the amount you are

4. Now and then, if the good of your soul so demands, upset the foregoing rules and do what you like for a short time.

This last may seem strange advice for a bank to give, but the advice reflects life. We must have some high moments. Only don't throw prudence to the winds. If you do, you are making an exception that will prove the rule that "wanton waste leads to woeful want."

After the Theater Henrici's

With few exceptions, the entertainments most worth while are within the Loon.

As distinguished from mere pastime attractions in the home districts—amusements that leave nothing of cultural or other permanent value—a little discrimination leads to entertainments within the Loop that merit the time bestowed upon them.

Do you not gain at a musical or dramatic performance upon a high plane added enjoyment through observation that you are surrounded by an audience showing every indication of developed intelligence? Where chiefly do you find such a combination of entertainment and audience if not within the Loop?

And should you afterward go, as no doubt you do at times, to Henrici's, you will find there a very considerable number of the sort of people to which reference is made. Such people for the most part give their preference to a restaurant in which real values in food, service and environment obviate all need for the sham attractions so potent in gaining the patronage of those whose intellectual attainment hardly goes beyond grasping the humor of a blatant movie comic.

Why not Henrici's after the theater, concert or opera tonight?

WHAT TEA

Sir Charles Highan

TEA is a natural stimulant. Alcohol is artificial. The Tea Plant is indigenous to India only. The growth of the plant in all other countries has only been made possible by the transfer of seed from India.

The high level reached in the cultivation of tea in India has only been secured after many years of scientific agricultural research. The highly efficient process of India Tea manufacture is attained by the utilisation of the most moders methods and machinery, ensuring a product of the greatest purity.

India Tea comes in varying degrees of richness and strength according to the Tea District in India in which it is grown. After manufacture, all India Tea is sorted in the following grades:-

Broken or Flowery Orange Pekoe, Orange Pekoe. Pekoe. Broken Pekoe.

Pekoe Souchong. This grading is governed by the size of the leaves and their parts; the tip and finer leaves being included in the Broken and Orange Pekoes, and the larger leaves and parts in the cheaper grades -but all India Tea is good to drink.

The Country Gentleman Past the Million Mark

The circulation of The Country Gentleman has passed the million mark.

This is the response of the American farm family to the first farm paper which had the vision to break frankly with the past, and to adapt its policy to the new conditions which rule on the farm today.

On August 22nd, the last weekly issue of The Country Gentleman, the net paid circulation was 808,407. With December, its fourth issue as a monthly, the circulation is well past the million mark—the result of a spontaneous increase in reader demand manifested through all channels of distribution.

On August 29th, in announcing the new monthly Country Gentleman, we stated that we had adopted certain changes to make The Country Gentleman "the foremost publication in America for those whose homes, or whose interests, are in the country."

By the verdict of its readers, it has reached this goal—in less than four short months.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Secretary of Commerce Hoover, speaking before the national rivers and harbors, congress today, declared that the middle west must have access to the sea, and that it is fundamentally necessary that the whole Mississippi system of waterways, including the link connecting Chicago and the gulf, should be driven to completion within the smallest possible number of years. Although called to discuss the rivers and harbors of the whole nation, the transportation problems of the middle west held the center of the stage throughout the day. Senator Deneen [Rep., Ill.] followed Secretary Hoover on the platform with a plea for speedy waterway development in the middle west.

The am that Lighted a Doge's Palace

A lamp hangs in the main entrance of the bank floor of the Straus Building. It was modeled from one in the Doge's palace.

All the artistry at the command of the rulers of ancient Venice is here reproduced in a masterpiece of metal work. It is many times greater in size and weight, of course, to be in keeping with the gigantic columns, the heavily coffered ceiling, and the imposing height of the room in which it hangs.

For no Venetian palace ever had throne room or council chamber to rival in greatness the new home of S. W. STRAUS & Co. in Chicago.

In imposing size, richness of detail, and genuineness of materials used, we have tried to make the Straus Building appropriate to the greatness, the wealth, and the power of Chicago.

We want the people of Chicago to look upon this room as theirs.

We want you to come, to bring your friends, your out-of-town guests and see for yourselves how modern architects, drawing from the art of all ages, have, in the Straus Building, produced a thing of great beauty, of lasting charm.

Anyofficeroremployee of S.W. STRAUS & Co. will act as guide, and gladly ex-plain the interesting features, not only of the bank floor, but of the entire

The lamp is a light of welcome, not alone to our actual customers, but to any who are interested in beauty wrought by man from marble and bronze. Also to any to whom ourlong experience in the financial world may be of value.

THERE is a reason for the exceptional liberality and convenience of I our Christmas purchase plan. Frankly, we want to place a number of Studebaker closed cars in certain sections of the city before the first of the year-for sales reasons.

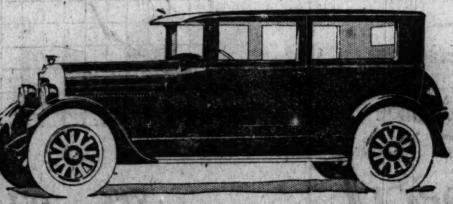

By taking advantage of the special inducement we are offering you (until Dec. 24th) you help us just as we help you.

Supposing you talk it over with the family—perhaps the money that you would spend to give each other "just something for Christmas" will be enough to put the golden "Keys to Happiness" on the Christmas tree and the new car at your front door Christmas morning.

But you must see us without delay—today if possible. Necessarily this offer must be limited to a few from each section of the city we can't afford to extend it generally or indefinitely. So come in as soon as you can so we can be sure to take care of you!

It will take a little time to arrange the delivery details-the name in gold on the dainty jewel box, the initials on the car door, and everything made ready to deliver the new car at your door Christmas morning!

"In general, denatured LCOHOL is the most satisfactory anti-freeze" u.s. Bureau of Standards

THE Department of Commerce recently L concluded tests of the efficiency of many anti-freeze compounds. Alcohol, the Bureau of Standards says, is best.

And denatured alcohol is also cheapest. The total consumption of alcohol for anti-freeze mixtures in the United States is less than three gallons per car per year at a cost of less than $3.00 yearly to the average individual motorist, spread out over the entire winter.

Why experiment with dangerous compounds which may rot hose connections, dissolve soldered joints in your radiator, or leak out over your engine?

Why indeed - when they cost five and six times as much each winter as denatured alcohol would cost?

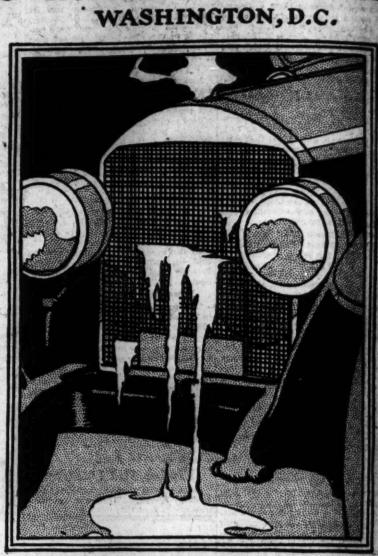

Over the entire history of the use of motor cars the mass experience of motorists points conclusively to safe, cheap denatured alcohol as the efficient and economical anti-freeze.

Fate's Grim Jest-

The Startling Story of a Girl Caught in the Web of Circumstance

VIHEN Claire Demarest came to work in the office Ruth's friends were few, and her pleasures fewer still. So when the Demarest girl - popular, good-looking, smartly dressed singled her out from all the other girls in the office on which to bestow her friendship, Ruth's excitement knew no bounds.

Had she known the influence that this fascinating, worldly creature was to have in her life-had she dreamed of the bitter sorrow and tragedy to which this friendship was to leadshe would have shrunk from it as from a deadly poison.

For it was Claire Demarest, with her stories of rich menfriends, glorious automobile rides, gay parties and dances in out-of-the-way road houses-that made Ruth long for the good times, the joyous "freedom," that her new friend pictured so vividly.

To a girl of Ruth's ignorance of life, it all seemed so harmless at the start. And when at last one night she stole away from home to join Claire Demarest and two men "friends" her excitement blinded her to everything but the great adventure.

How this innocent girl slipped farther and farther down the perilous path she had chosen to tread; how a single terrible incident suddenly awakened her to the horror of her situation; how from a gay, laughing girl she became a very tigress, battling fiercely to save herself from the destruction that threatened her-will grip your interest and stir your emotions as few stories, real or imagined, have ever done.

Ruth's astounding story, told with all the vividness and dramatic power that can come only from one who has lived what she writes, appears under the title, "Buried Secrets," in the January issue of True Story Magazine.

There is a lesson in this true-life narrative that no girl who reads it can ever forget. No matter who you are - man or woman, boy or girl-it is a thrilling story you cannot afford to miss. True Story Magazine is now on sale at all newsstands. Get your copy TODAY!

"A Woman of the World" is the screen adaptation of "The Tattooed Countess," by Carl Van Vechten, and, as pictured, but a thin thread of picto, which, nevertheless, serves well to display to advantage the famous jewels and moods of Pola Negri.

Your heroine is discovered as an immensely wealthy and temperamental French woman of the world, who has loved a man well enough to wear his crest tattooed on her arm. Her discov-ery of his unfaithfulness drives her across the seas to Maple Valley, a small mid-western town, where live two just remembered cousins, Sam Poore and his wife Lou.

It is her plan to find rest and peace in their simple home. It is her belief that the honest, unquestioning friend-liness she will encounter in this small, out of the world place will heal at Bloomington; Dr. Horace G. Smith, her wound. Considerable laughable comedy is furnished by Chester Conklin—who only needs to show his face to make most folks grin. Charles Mack has some good scenes as an infatuated town boy, and Holmes Herbert is there—to not any great effect—as the district attorney.

The film is, in the main, quite entertaining and will do well, I should think.

This new record, according to directors of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, brings the total number of new cars turned out to Dec. 1 up to 3,997,954, and insures 1925 as the biggest production and sales period in the history of automobiles.

The Tribune's Daily Net Paid Circulation Is Now more 00.000

700,000 was the circulation mark set by The Tribune for 1925—and this mark was passed early in December-almost a month before the year's close.

The Tribune's daily circulation for the six months . ending March 31, 1925, was 619,336. In eight months this figure has been increased by over 80,000-a gain of more than 11%.

Even in the prosperous year of 1925 an increase of such volume is indicative of more than ordinary development.

The chart herewith graphically reveals the upward trend of Tribune circulation for the past ten years. It tells more clearly than words of the growing reader acceptance of The Tribune, not only in Chicago, but throughout the rich Chicago territory which it dominates.

WANTED-MALE HELD. AN A1 OPPORTUNITY

FOR SALESMEN. The formation of an entirely separate and complete sales organization by one of Chicago's most successful subdividers, naturally under capable supervision, means real opportunity to many salesmen and sales managers who have been "whipped around the post" during recent months.

Many men who know the personnel of this organization will recognize the opportunity at once. Others are also invited to come in and investigate.

We are opening some of the most desirable property in the CALUMET DISTRICT, the district where things are want our sales force ready being done-where promises are fulfilled-where money is being made. It will take us a very short time to hit our stride, and when you can lay down our proposition to your customers you can let them think it over without any fear of some one else selling them. In other words, you have no real competition, and with the co-operation you receive from capable and experienced heads of departments you cannot help but make money.

YOUR CUSTOMERS WILL ALSO MAKE MONEY.

This is not one of those cut and dried or catch as catch can propositions - to urge you into this business or into this organization. If you're experienced in the business you'll know the men who are already successful in the record is clean you should get in for your own welfare. If you're not experienced and want to learn the most interesting and profitable business today come in and see me at our
